EQUIPMENT WARRANTY CLAIMS AND PROCEDURES

1. Upon breach of the Standard Equipment Warranty and Imagine Communications' receipt of notice of such breach, the customer's sole and exclusive remedy will be, at Imagine Communications' sole discretion and option, repair or replacement of the defective equipment or component with functionally equivalent equipment or components. Components that the customer claims to be defective shall be available to Imagine Communications for inspection and testing. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the customer shall be solely responsible for customs clearance for all repaired or replacement equipment and components under the Standard Equipment Warranty. To be entitled to rights under the Standard Equipment Warranty, the customer shall open a service request by contacting the relevant Imagine Communications help desk by phone or web interface within thirty (30) days after discovering a suspected defect in any equipment or component, but in any event prior to the expiration of the applicable Equipment Warranty Period, and shall request a return authorization from Imagine Communications. Notice to an Imagine Communications dealer, systems integrator, sales representative or other third party is not notice to Imagine Communications. Following its receipt of any such customer notice, Imagine Communications will determine whether the reported problem is covered by the Standard Equipment Warranty. If Imagine Communications determines that the problem is covered by the Standard Equipment Warranty, Imagine Communications will authorize repair or replacement of the defective equipment or component by issuing a return authorization. For clarification purposes, any technical support provided by Imagine Communications will be for the sole purpose of fulfilling Imagine Communications' warranty obligations. If Imagine Communications determines that the customer is using technical support as a substitute for training of the customer's personnel, then such technical support will be subject to additional charges at Imagine Communications' then prevailing unit rate for such services.

- Before shipping any equipment or component to Imagine Communications, the customer must obtain a written return authorization from Imagine Communications and provide any proof of warranty eligibility requested by Imagine Communications. Any equipment or component received by Imagine Communications without a return authorization may, at Imagine Communications' option, be returned to the customer collect. Once a return authorization is obtained, the customer is responsible for packing and shipping the equipment or component to which its warranty claim relates to a service facility designated by Imagine Communications within thirty (30) days after receipt of the return authorization. Imagine Communications will pay for return of the repaired or replacement equipment or component to the customer if the repaired or replacement product is shipped to a designated Imagine Communications service facility. In the event that the foregoing procedure is not followed by the customer, the customer shall pay for return shipping of the defective equipment or component to Imagine Communications and Imagine Communications shall only pay delivery charges of the replacement equipment or component to the customer. Imagine Communications will use commercially reasonable efforts to supply equipment or components from the geographical region of the customer's site, so as to minimize freight and duty. Imagine Communications bears the risk of loss or damage while the equipment or component is in transit to the customer from the Imagine Communications service center, and the customer bears the risk of loss or damage while the equipment (or part thereof) is in transit back to the Imagine Communications service center.
- Upon receipt of replacement equipment or component, the customer has thirty (30) days to tender the defective equipment or component to the return carrier for shipment to the service center designated by Imagine Communications. If the customer does not timely return the defective equipment or component, the customer shall pay to Imagine Communications the list price of such equipment or component, plus applicable shipping. Such failure to return the equipment or component may, in Imagine Communications' discretion, be grounds for termination of the warranty and/or suspension of any future advance exchange privileges until such outstanding defective equipment or component has been returned. Under the Standard Equipment Warranty Imagine Communications will provide the customer with new, rebuilt, refurbished or alternate equipment or component of equal or improved quality, as exchange equipment or component to replace eligible defective equipment or component. Any alternate equipment or component will meet or exceed the specifications of the replaced equipment or component. Rebuilt or refurbished equipment or components may bear cosmetic blemishes that do not affect performance. Unless otherwise specified by Imagine Communications in writing, repaired or replaced equipment or components are covered only for the remainder of the term of the applicable Standard Equipment Warranty. All defective equipment or components replaced by Imagine Communications become the property of Imagine Communications. Imagine Communications has no obligation to (i) service, exchange or otherwise replace any equipment or component that has been damaged, modified, abused, misused or over-used as determined by Imagine Communications or has been used with non-Imagine Communications supplies or products that have caused damage or malfunction; (ii) paint, refinish, refurbish, restore or exchange any equipment or component with cosmetic blemishes; (iii) service, exchange or otherwise replace any equipment or component if the same would interfere with, impede or be redundant with normal or scheduled maintenance of such equipment or component; (iv) service, exchange or otherwise replace any equipment or component that is within sixty (60) days of the end of its production life; or (v) provide any application software support or service involving application hardware or replace any accessories. If Imagine Communications elects to perform any such services at the customer's request, then such services will be deemed a service call and all labor, parts and materials used for the service call will be charged at Imagine Communications' then-prevailing rates.
